BASIC PRINCIPLES

1. Legislation

The Visual Arts department of SABAM operates within the framework of copyright legislation in force in Belgium. This section contains extracts from the law of 30 June 1994 on copyright and associated rights (Belgisch Staatsblad/ Moniteur Belge, 27 July 1994), as modified by the law of 22 May 2005 (Belgisch Staatsblad/ Moniteur Belge, 27 May 2005).

Permission to copy

Art 1.§1.: Only the author of a work of literature or art has the right to reproduce or allow it to be reproduced in whatever manner or whatever form, directly or indirectly, temporarily or permanently, in full or in part. That right includes the exclusive right to authorise the work to be revised or translated. That right also includes the exclusive right to authorise the work to be hired out or loaned. Only the author of a work of literature or art has the right to communicate the work to the public irrespective of the process, including making it available to the public in such manner that it is accessible to all members of the public in a place and at a time chosen by them individually.

Moral right

Art. 1.§ 2.: The author of a work of literature or art has an inalienable moral right over that work. Any overall waiver of the future exercising of that right is null and void. This includes the right to publicise the work. Unpublicised works are not susceptible to attachment. The author has the right to assert or to refuse recognition as author of the work. He has the right to the respect of his work, which entitles him to oppose any change being made to it. Notwithstanding any waiver, he retains the right to oppose any deformation, mutilation or other change to his work and any other act that could damage the work, or that could damage his status or reputation.

Duration

Art. 2.§1.: The copyright remains in force for seventy years after the death of the author in favour of the person designated by him or, if no-one has been so designated, in favour of his heirs, in accordance with article 7.

Photographs

Art. 2.§5.: The period of protection for original photographs, in the sense that they are the intellectual creation of the artist, is determined in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs.

Restrictive interpretation of cessions

Art. 3.§1.al.3: The contractual stipulations in relation to copyright and how it is exploited must be interpreted restrictively. The cession of an object that contains a work, does not lead to the right to exploit the work; the author must be given reasonable access to his work in order to be able to exercise his property rights.

Cession of a work of Visual Art

Art. 9: Unless it is agreed otherwise, the cession of a work of visual art gives the right to a recipient to show the work as it is, in circumstances that do not injure the honour or reputation of the author; the other rights attaching to the author are not ceded.

Unless it is otherwise agreed or unless normal practice differs, the cession of a work of visual art includes a prohibition on identical copies being made of it.

Portrait

Art. 10: Neither the author of a portrait, nor its owner, nor any other person who possesses a portrait or has custody of it, has the right to reproduce it or to display it in public without the permission of the subject of the portrait or, for twenty years following that person's death, without the permission of his heirs.

Reciprocal rights of foreign authors

Art. 79. al.1 :Subject to the provisions contained in international agreements, this law also guarantees the rights in Belgium of foreign authors and foreigners who enjoy associated rights, but not for a longer period than that laid down in Belgian law.

Penalty provisions

Art. 80. al.1, 2 and 3: Any person who maliciously or fraudulently infringes on copyright and associated rights, is guilty of the offence of counterfeiting.

The same applies to the malicious or fraudulent use of the name of an author or of a person who enjoys an associated right, or the use of any distinctive identifier used by him on his work or performance. Any items produced in this way will be considered counterfeit.

Any person who, knowing that they are counterfeit, sells such items, hires them, or puts them up for sale or for hire, or has them in stock for sale or hire or imports them into Belgium for commercial purposes, is guilty of the same offence.

Civil action in respect of copyright

Art. 87. §1, al.1, 2 and 3: Subject to the competence of the court of first instance, the chair of this court confirms the existence of an infringement of copyright or of an associated right and instructs that the infringement be brought to an end.

The case is brought and dealt with in summary proceedings. The case is concluded, notwithstanding any further action that may take place in the criminal courts based on the same facts.

Art. 87. §2: The handover of the counterfeit items and printing plates, moulds, patterns or other tools that have been directly utilised in the production of the counterfeit items and which remain in the possession of the defendant, can be used in part payment of the compensation payable to the plaintiff.

A defendant who is deemed to have acted in bad faith, may be subjected to the confiscation of the counterfeit items and of the printing plates, moulds, patterns and other tools that have been directly used in the production of the counterfeit items or, where appropriate, to the payment of a sum equal to the price of these items or other goods already disposed of.

2. Practical consequences

As copyright is assignable (art. 3. §1, al.1 law of 30 June 1994) SABAM may, where so authorised by the artist or his heirs, grant the prior authorisation for reproduction required by the law.

This permission relates only on the material side of the reproduction. The artist retains the moral right (art. 1, §2 of the law of 30 June 1994). This naturally implies that the publisher is responsible for the absolute fidelity of the work reproduced. The artist can always exercise his veto in the case of modification being made to his work or imperfect copies being made of it, even where permission to reproduce has been obtained from SABAM and royalties have been paid.

In order to eliminate this risk, the publisher may send 2 copies of proofs to SABAM. The artist will sign this as "good to print", or not. One copy is then returned to the publisher.

The artist may exercise his veto where the reproduction is used for advertising purposes. For this reason, the publisher should approach SABAM to ask whether the artist agrees with such use.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

With the exception of reproductions governed by publishing contracts, permission must always be granted prior to use. Permission is only effective when all conditions are satisfied. A reproduction in respect of which royalties have been paid and that does not meet the other conditions, will thus be considered as not having been sanctioned.

No right of display is included in the permission to reproduce.

1. Credits

The name of the artist, the name of the photographer, the title of the work and "© SABAM Belgium 2012" (only for artists represented by SABAM) must always be indicated.

In magazines and books, these indications may be grouped together at the front or at the end of the publication, on condition that the authorised reproduction is identified in an unambiguous manner (page, no. etc.).

2. Voucher copies

Two copies of the publication in which the work is reproduced, must be sent to SABAM as voucher copies.

In respect of exhibitions, an entrance ticket should be sent to SABAM.

3. Personal character

Each authorisation for reproduction is awarded personally and cannot be assigned to third parties without the express advance permission of the author and/or his agent or heir.

4. Timescales and compensation

4.1. Period of use

The permission to make reproductions is valid for 1 year, to be calculated from the date the permission is granted. A new request must be made after the expiry of this period. For permissions that relate to short periods, such as for example for the Internet, permission to carry out reproductions expires after 6 months.

4.2. Payment terms

In the case of non-payment within 30 days, late payment interest will be charged on all outstanding amounts at a rate of 1% per month or part thereof, by right and without notification.

4.3. Compensation

If the correct credits are not shown, if royalties are not paid and/or in the case of a refusal to send the voucher copies, compensation is payable in addition to the royalties normally chargeable, by right and without notification, which is determined as follows:

- for the use of a work without prior written permission and/or in the case of the adaptation of the work without permission: twice the amount of the royalties payable with a minimum of 125.00 euro per work.
- upon recurrence: twice the amount of the royalties payable with a minimum of 250.00 euro per work.
- in the absence of the copyright credits and/or the identification of the name of the author or in the case of refusal to send the voucher copies: an amount equal to the royalties payable with a minimum of 125.00 euro per work.
- for the use of a work with the name falsely identified: three times the amount of the royalties payable with a minimum of 250.00 euro per work.

Where a legal dossier for recovery is prepared:

- for a reproduction without the permission of SABAM,
- for a reproduction without the correct credits,
- for the non-payment of royalties due,
- for failure to send the voucher copies,

10% of the amount payable, with a minimum of 250.00 euro, will be charged to cover administrative costs, in addition to the compensation payable to the author.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

1 – Start by consulting the sections covering Basic Principles, General Conditions and Special Conditions.

2 – Find the section applicable to you in the table of contents.

3 – Horizontal tariffs – Pages: 11, 12, 13, 19, 20, 23, 29, 30 and 33. These tariffs are calculated based on a range of criteria (circulation, format, colour or b/w, etc.). Next consult, where appropriate, the criteria applied by SABAM to modify the base tariff in order to know whether to apply a discount or a supplementary charge.

4 – Vertical tariffs – Pages: 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 30, 31 and 32. These tariffs are calculated based on range of criteria (circulation, duration, format, location, territory, etc.). Starting from this base tariff, you then need to count the 'supplementary' and 'discount' points in order to determine the correct amount for each reproduction.
